In the last 20 years, the need for a financial expert to act as a witness and consultant to litigating attorneys has grown even more than litigation itself. Twenty years ago, few certified public accountants or economists offered litigation-related services; now, a large number devote much of their practice to this area. To be litigation service practitioners and accountants need to learn or enhance their litigation skills, including the fine points of their roles in trial preparation and testimony presentation, testimony presentation, deposition, direct examination, cross examination, understanding Sarbanes-Oxley rulings, and fraud investigations.

Now in its second edition, this internationally best-selling book has been revised and updated. It focuses on helping people overcome some of the most common obstacles to successful publication. Lack of time? An unconscious fear of rejection? Conflicting priorities? In this, the first book to address the subject, Abby Day explains how to overcome these obstacles and create publishable papers for journals most likely to publish them. She shows how to identify a suitable journal and how to plan, prepare and compile a paper that will satisfy its requirements.

She pays particular attention to the creative aspects of the process. As an experienced journal editor and publisher, Dr Day is well placed to reveal the inside workings of the reviewing procedure - and the more fully you understand this, the greater the chance that what you submit will be accepted and published. For academic and research staff, in whatever discipline, a careful study of Dr Day's book could be your first step on the road to publication.

Progress Journal offers a simple but purposeful way to plan out your most important work--and track your results--so that your effort is never wasted. How The Progress Journal Works In a decade of studying productivity methods and "hacks", I've found that just a handful of keystone habits tend to make the biggest impact on my personal productivity. Those are the habits I've baked into this journal, and the ones I'm confident will have you feeling better and more productive about your work right away. Those keystone habits are: Setting short-term "sprint" goals, and breaking those down into the smallest actionable steps. Identifying your top 1-3 priorities each day and measuring your progress on those. Practicing gratitude. Establishing and tracking too-small-to-fail "micro habits". Identifying and tracking your Key Performance Indicators. It's not a huge time commitment or massive lifestyle shift. In fact, using this journal should take less than 5 minutes a day. Why Progress? I'm obsessed with progress. To me, progress means forward motion, or actively taking the steps to improve each day. It's one thing we can control. And progress is universal; everyone can make progress toward their goals in some meaningful way, however small the steps may seem. It turns out I'm not alone either. We're wired to seek progress; psychologists have found it to be a key factor in our overall happiness. Even Tony Robbins calls it the "1-word secret to happiness," telling CNBC, "I always tell people if you want to know the secret to happiness, I can give it to you in one word: progress." My Guarantee If you follow the guidelines and prompts in this journal, I guarantee you'll feel more satisfied and productive with your work after just 28 days. If you don't, just send me a note (my contact info is at the end of the book), and I'll buy the journal back from you, no questions asked. Ready? Hit the "Buy Now" button and let's get started!
