Ella Fitzgerald was one of America's greatest jazz singers. This volume is as complete a discography of her recorded songs as currently seems possible to compile. This volume also contains a complete discography (1927-1939) for drummer and bandleader Chick Webb, with whom Ella began her recording career in 1935. Part One includes a chronological listing of all known recorded performances of both Chick Webb and Ella. Part Two gives the complete contents of Ella's LPs and CDs, including track listings, titles (with lyricists and composers) and timings. Part Three is an annotated alphabetical listing of all songs contained on all of Fitzgerald's records, with detailed information on each song's composer, lyricist, and history. Reviews of the movies in which Ella appeared and surveys of her career with the Decca, Verve and Pablo music companies are included. The book also has an index of album and CD recordings, and composers, lyricists and musicians.

The stories behind the luck, inspiration, and timing that brought hits like "Heartbreak Hotel," "Don't Be Cruel," "In the Ghetto," and "A Little Less Conversation" to life are told in this look at some of the world's most popular hits. Fans will be given the inside story of how these and other of the best known rock songs were written, why they were recorded, and how they became hits. Along the way, they will meet and get to know the men and women who wrote songs for the "King," follow the route these songs took to Elvis, and understand how he reshaped the songs to fit his vision. The author spent countless hours interviewing songwriters, digging through dusty charts, and listening to demos in order to uncover the great stories he tells here. Each song in this book is a commentary on where the world was and what was making it tick, making these songs as much a glimpse into the life of America as into the life of Elvis.

Francisco's Chinatown. It's an amazing story."—Jann Wenner "A poignant examination of Ben's life. I couldn't put it down. In fact, I'm still holding it."—Steve Martin "I am a fifty-three-year-old Caucasian woman, and I feel as if a forty-seven-year-old Chinese man has just told my story—and that of a generation of Americans. Thank you, Ben."—Grace Slick of The Jefferson Airplane "Ben Fong-Torres's voice rocked over the radio waves and a whole generation listened to one of the pioneer voices to break out of Chinatown. Now Fong-Torres fills his memoir, The Rice Room, with worlds of feeling, both tender and tragic, to reveal the fire behind that voice."—Fae Myenne Ng, author of Bone "Ben Fong-Torres's book is one man's journey into the heart of contemporary America. From childhood to manhood we see his struggles and triumphs as he negotiates growing up in the 60s with Elvis, hippie rock and roll, personal tragedy, and a Chinese-American soul. A witty, moving, heartfelt read."—Philip Kan Gotanda, writer and director of The Kiss and author of Yankee Dawg You Die

What if you woke up in a different reality? In an alternate version of you? And when you next close your eyes and open them, you are in yet another alternate version of yourself? Regressions tells the story of a man caught up in such a journey. A journey through the timestreams. A journey he is unable to control. As he begins to map out these adventures, patterns emerge which suggest the choices he makes in one reality have consequences in the rest. If he can figure out why this is happening and what he is intended to learn, he may be able to end it. He can settle down in a nice, cozy seaside cottage with his love, the giant dragonflies, and all the peace and calm and panic he could ask for. But which reality is home? “Regressions is a work that reaches far beyond the realm of storytelling. It is a return to an ancient form of spiritual philosophy, a tool to assist the workings of the soul; the first step of realignment to the natural order of being—living through your authentic voice.” —Benjamin Pearson, from the Foreword

Essay from the year 2017 in the subject Musicology, grade: High Distinction, Griffith University (Queensland Conservatorium of Music), course: Bachelor of Music, language: English, abstract: The popular music genre is extremely diverse and has roots in the late 1890s but it was not until the 1920s until the term had gained currency. It is not simply a genre but is an important means of documenting the evolution of society through the decades and is at the mercy of its audience.

Therefore, when analysing popular music, it is essential to study it from a broad perspective and take into consideration the environment in which it was written.

Shruker elaborates on this by stating, “The study of popular music embraces aesthetics and musicology, economics and sociology, and social psychology”.

These factors are explored in this essay to trace the changing socio-cultural trends across the decades and their effects on musical style. The example of “Can’t Help Falling in Love” by Elvis Presley is employed to achieve this objective, as well as two cover versions by English Reggae and pop band UB40 and Swedish pop group A-Teens. A detailed musical deconstruction of each song will be provided with an overview of the structure, lyrics, instruments and stylistic indicators, which place the song in its era. Furthermore, an in-depth exploration of the relevant era in which the song was written and recorded will be provided, including a brief background of the performer with regards to his appearance, presentation and promotional material. Ultimately, this essay will prove popular music to be a product of its socio-cultural environment.

Grambo is the gripping memoir of an American grandmother in Baghdad . . . And beyond. I am . GRAMBO! At a time when many women my age were counting down To The much-deserved peace of retirement, I chose to pull on a pair of army boots and head off To The turmoil of war. At age sixty-three, I went to work as a civilian contractor at Camp Victory in Iraq, serving proudly for three unforgettable years alongside United States and coalition forces. Grambo, My amazing life story, Is filled with love, loss, and triumph, all recalled during my time in Baghdad in the difficult early days of the Iraq war. How I, a shy southern girl grew up to boldly serve the Lord all over the world, eventually arriving in Baghdad as a three-time grandmother to serve under fire with our brave soldiers, will enthrall women everywhere. My journey encompasses a wealth of hard-earned life lessons which will inspire women of all ages to face their own trials head-on. My secret to success, no matter what life brings? My steadfast faith in Jesus Christ.

Album-by-album, song-by-song, this is a critical analysis of each of Bob Dylan's recordings. Entries include the album's production personnel and dates, the position it reached on the Billboard charts, the singles and out-takes, a description of the liner notes and the cover, and a critique of the overall album and each song on it. Filmographic data and analyses are provided for movies and television shows in which Dylan has appeared. A look at his two extensive radio interviews and his novel Tarantula (1971) completes the work. This illustrated A-Z guide covers more than 700 country music artists, groups, and bands. Articles also cover specific genres within country music as well as instruments used. Written in a lively, engaging style, the entries not only outline the careers of country music's greatest artists, they provide an understanding of the artist's importance or failings, and a feeling for his or her style. Select discographies are provided at the end of each entry, while a bibliography and indexes by instrument, musical style, genre, and song title round out the work. For a full list of entries, a generous selection of sample entries, and more, visit the Country Music: A Biographical Dictionary website.

industry insider takes you to the heart of the Dave Matthews Band -- their meteoric rise to superstardom and the most extensive listing ever published of their tours and smash recordings, including the bootlegs that the band encourages. Charlottesville, Virginia, 1991: Dave Matthews meets and jams with drummer Carter Beauford, bassist Stefan Lessard, saxophonist Leroi Moore, and violinist Boyd Tinsley. The band tours extensively for the next two years and puts out the self-released live album, Remember Two Things. Their enthusiastic grass-roots following in the Southeast and groove-ridden jams earn them a major label deal with RCA Records and the release of Under the Table and Dreaming, giving fans two smash hits and garnering a pair of Grammy nominations. But it is the heartfelt ballad "Crash Into Me" from their third album, Crash, that vaults them into the alternative-rock mainstream. Superb critical acclaim for their fourth bestselling set, Before These Crowded Streets, lands Dave on the cover of Spin, dubbed "the King of Rock." Through interviews with close associates, collaborators, tour mates, and friends, along with a complete discography and "gigography" (the definitive list of all the band's phenomenal live shows), this book takes you inside the Dave Matthews universe. This multiracial quintet's unique mix of jazz, blue-eyed funk, world rhythms, and sensitive lyricism speaks to people across generations.
