Madame et Alice is written by a high school teacher of French along with one of her students who studied five years of French. Dr. Soper, the teacher-author, opens the book by describing her responsibilities along with different teaching techniques for promoting and enhancing student learning. At the end of each chapter Alice, the student co-author, adds a student's perspective to Dr. Soper's teaching techniques. The book concludes with two chapters that depict Dr. Soper's educational and personal philosophies. As a 32-year educator, Dr. Soper incorporates change into her teaching by being the same person.

In addition to being an essential component of program evaluation, student evaluation of a systematic nature is considered to be an integral part of language teaching methodology. The purpose of this document is to provide a brief review of some options in student evaluation, and to consider their relevance for monitoring student learning and perceptions in the context of a multidimensional curriculum for core French programs. It examines some important basic concepts in evaluation and considers evaluation methods in three general categories: language tests, observation and record-keeping, and self-report evaluation techniques. Voyage is a four-stage multimedia French course designed to meet the requirements of the National Curriculum and the demands of the GCSE examination for a wide-ability range of students. Voyage 4 features clear objectives, sac a sons for systematic pronunciation practice, guide grammaire to help with learning new grammar, etc.

Designed to meet the needs of wide-ability classes, the Camarades French course is divided into four units and fulfils the criteria of the National Curriculum/5-14 Guidelines, fully preparing all pupils for GCSE/Standard Grade examinations. The Teacher's Book contains an overview of each unit; offers clear, concise teaching notes; provides notes for the four assessment sections and the answers to all Pupil's Book exercises; and comprises tapescripts in sequence that are highlighted for ease of reference. The book has been revised for the National Curriculum 2000.
