“Heaven is exciting! Heaven is big! Heaven is safe! Heaven is forever!” Heaven: What’s It Like? How Do We Get There? is the first in a brand new children’s series titled First Steps. This series explains the foundations of the Christian faith in sensitive and simple child-friendly terms. In this first book kids will understand, through 60 rhyming stories and colorful illustrations, what heaven is all about. Children will be inspired and uplifted by the hope and promise of Heaven and their heavenly Father. This is a comforting book for children who have lost grandparents or other loved ones. In addition to learning about heaven, children will be inspired to live their earthly lives in a way that is glorifying and honoring to God.

In Love You All the Way to Heaven, we are reminded of how true and abundant our child's love for us is. The delightful rhyming story takes readers through a special moment when a little girl tells her mommy and daddy how much she loves them. This sweet moment captured in time reminds us all of how Jesus can teach our young children the meaning of love.

Author Shelba Wilbur presents a collection of her writings, including the novella Children from Heaven and a collection of short stories titled When God Speaks. Children from Heaven tells the story of Addie, who lost her husband, David, in a tragic automobile accident caused by an intoxicated driver. He was the love of her life. They had prayed to God for children throughout their marriage, but He kept saying Be patient. Once David was gone, Addie struggled with what to do with her life, feeling as though their patience had been in vain. Then one day Addie opened her door to a friend, and her life changed forever. There, with her friend, stood four young boys who needed a place to live and someone to take care of them. They moved in with Addie, and as her family took root, Addie finally understood why God counseled her to be patient. Mama Addies family became her legacy! When God Speaks presents a collection of inspirational short stories about the very special relationship that each person builds with God. These are the stories of people from many walks of life, people who listen when God speaks. They listen not only with their ears, but also with their hearts. Their stories are a testament to Gods love.

When someone we love passes from this earthly realm, children are often told that their loved one has gone to heaven. And often they will ask, "Where is heaven?". Trying to explain this elusive "place" or state of being in a non-religious way can be a challenging task for adults. Where Is Heaven? explains heaven not as a place or destination, but rather as a state of being that is one with all of creation. This is not your traditional religious view of heaven, but rather a universal spiritual concept of where our spirit goes when we leave our body. In simple rhyming poetry, author Shasta Rose conveys a concept of heaven that children can better understand by relating to the natural world around them. It will bring them a sense of comfort to know that the loved ones they've lost, whether they are people or pets, are still with them in spirit and can be felt as the love in their hearts.

A book giving some comfort to children. The little cat called Michel shows all children the way to heaven. Quite unexpectedly one day he was asked by his guardian cat Bruno to climb up the ladder to heaven. Reaching his destination in the clouds Michel meets some other pets and he attentively listens to their life stories. Although feeling sad having had to leave life on earth behind, Michel is quickly adjusting to life in heaven as he can wave to his little girl Laura every evening. The two lived in the same home on earth. It is a touching story which tells children that their pets can only enjoy a limited number of years on earth. It is written in a consoling manner intending to help them when the separation from their beloved pets occurs.

"As we witness the shifting of old forms that once stood as the foundation of our daily lives, parents—who must prepare the next generation to meet this changing world—have more questions now than ever before. Although our culture and the nature of the family may be changing, the atmosphere in the home continues to create the foundation of a child's life. In Heaven on Earth, parent and educator Sharifa Oppenheimer reveals how to make the home environment warm, lively, loving, and consistent with your highest ideals. Heaven on Earth balances theoretical understanding of child development with practical ideas, resources, and tips that can transform family life. Readers will learn how to establish the life rhythms that lay the foundation for all learning; how to design indoor play environments that allow children the broadest skills development; and how to create backyard play spaces that encourage vigorous movement and a wide sensory palette. Through art, storytelling, and the festival celebrations, this book is a guide to build a "family culture" based on the guiding principle of love. Such a culture supports children and allows the free development of each unique soul. Responding to parents' questions from more than twenty years of teaching, Oppenheimer has created a gift from the heart. This is a practical, inspiring resource that brings her informed, intuitive understanding of young children into the heart of the home."--Publisher description.

God's plan is for all of us to walk in his strength and authority! In Unleash Heaven's Power M. L. Scown unlocks the treasures found in this authority and our positions in Christ. Taking hold of the knowledge and wisdom found within scripture and helping to destroy the bondage brought about by ignorance, to experience true freedom as God's children.

Where do people and animals go when they die? And what happens to their bodies? The children's book 'Anton, Heaven and the Ocean' describes the loss of a beloved pet and tries to find answers to the questions above. Child friendly language and positive imagery help children to explore the topic of death. Disease, the process of dying and death are generally taboo in our society. However, they are an intrinsic part of life. Sooner or later we all have to say goodbye – to a pet, a family member, or a close friend. This story aims to help through such an experience. It offers parents and other interested readers ideas how to explain loss and death in a way appropriate for children, and shows how heaven is like. Grandpa says that he has always believed it to be a 'super special' place. He then asks Bradley to imagine 'a place in the sky that feels special'. Bradley Bunny imagines a carrot themed funfair in the sky! Grandpa Rabbit says that he imagines a beautiful garden, full of old friends and delicious food. Either way, when Grandpa Rabbit eventually goes to Heaven, Bradley is secure in the knowledge that that Grandpa will be very happy there. At the beginning of the story, Grandpa Rabbit had given Bradley a gift. At the end of the story, this gift reappears, and serves as a moving reminder to Bradley that, whilst the grandpa he loves has left, in some way, he will always be with him.

Denise Martin grew up in a nice, upper-middle-class family, with a loving stay-at-home mom and a successful dad who served as a church elder. But beneath this perfect picture lay a dirty secret, one of incest and abuse, deceit and denial. To protect herself, Denise tucked her memories away, but she couldn't shake the hurt, confusion and shame she felt. To compensate for her lack of self-esteem, she indulged her unhealthy obsessions with food, drugs, and danger, always living life on the edge. Yet she never sunk into oblivion. Bright, compassionate, and tenacious, she also created responsible roles for herself as an innovative businesswoman and an advocate for children. Eating My Way to Heaven is the sometimes outrageous, often comical, always entertaining story of Denise's long, hard journey from a damaged past to a healthy, promising, productive future. This candid, no-holds-barred account illustrates so well that, when we have the courage to admit our denial and confront our demons, what we will find can set us free. Book jacket.

My name is Lucy McEachern Irving and I am a 30 yr old mother of four, but I only have one living to put to bed every night. He is amazing, and I love him more than anyone could ever imagine. My book is about his sister and his brothers that GOD blessed me with and then took them back to heaven to be with him all in the same breath. I was madly in love with their father and shortly after we married he began to physically hurt me and yet I stayed throughout all the fights and two deaths of our children. I did manage to find true happiness but my children have always held me back in some way. Everything in my life surrounded what happened when they died and surrounded the deep unending connection that their father and I had. He had a hold on me that is not healthy in any way. I went through other abuses, and everyone Ive ever loved thought that the way to express their love for me was with violence. After the death of my children I fell into a very dark place and fell into deep addiction with the fault of no one but my own. I had to learn how to deal with my pain sober, and had to relive everything about their deaths all over again because I truly believed I could numb my pain and never deal with it. I managed to find a way to stay sober and after completely losing all faith I began to realize that without that I couldnt go any were. I couldnt get back up without GODs help. I do end up being blessed with the most amazing baby boy and even though it was a fight to get him here to stay with me, I thank GOD for my blessing and dont take it for granted not one second. But after learning how to live without my children s father and learning to be without him, I fell in real love with a wonderful man who supports me and loves me the way love is meant to be. He gave me a child after 5 miscarriages, but even he couldnt protect me from my children s father, and he did come back into my life to destroy me and what I had managed to salvage of my life. Even my new husband isnt perfect and managed to tear me apart in other ways. And to surprise, another death came into my world and destroyed us for so long. We do manage to find each other again, and because of the strength GOD gave me we are now happy and ready to start our lives together all over again with our precious miracle baby. My story is coming in two volumes because there is so much to tell. I want to show people like me that it can get better if you just try. If you give it to GOD it will happen and your dreams can come true. My main goal is to help just one person in this world to see that they are not alone and never will be. I also want to say, IF I CAN MAKE IT ANYONE CAN!

Edward Payson Hammond spent much of his life and ministry traveling the world to preach the Gospel, with a special emphasis upon children. His labors were honored by men like C.H. Spurgeon, Andrew Bonar, W.S. Plumer and multitudes of others. When he wrote letters to some of the leading ministers of the nineteenth century he asked their opinion about the vital subject addressed in this book: the conversion of children. Here are a couple responses he received: "My conviction is that our converts from among children are among the very best we have. I should judge them to have been more numerously genuine than any other class, more constant, and in the long run more solid."--Charles H. Spurgeon "In awakenings that have been given us, the cases of young people have been as entirely satisfactory as any cases we have had. If conversion be God's work, in which the Holy Spirit reveals Christ to the soul, surely His work can take place in children as really as in the old." - Andrew Bonar. This volume will immediately capture the attention of the youngest children as Hammond relates his experience of first entering his journey to the city of Jerusalem. Each of the first four

This collection of writings tries to open minds to truth. A few writings are simple and straight forward. Others are more detailed. General Victor survived the Philippine Death March at Bataan while he was a private. This writing shows a strong man who survived horror. He lived in a nightmare with thousands of others. Each person has their own story, and each story is important. One person seemed to be invisible so that he was not confronted. General Victor lived through heat, exhaustion, malaria, malnutrition, and circumstances that changed his appearances so that his own dad could not recognize him. A Japanese soldier helped General Victor's dad locate him. The Archway through the Wall of time is a story of how we think we are living in unity and truth but we are not. We have built a wall of time that influences the thoughts of those who do not look past the sixteenth century. We have built a wall in time, and with memes in our brains, truth is harder to find. Memes are pieces of information that are passed on quickly by a process that is not understood. These small bits of information, when allowed to grow inside of us, can affect us in a way that we do not know. Children of Heaven, Children of the Seven is about hope and how we can know that everything will turn out okay. We just need to align ourselves with Truth and Justice. Galileo Galilei was a great scientist but a poor astronomer. He can be incorrectly used to show the Church erred, but the arguments are based on myths. Early scientists took the world of science out of philosophy and into a time where science is used to show the works of God. Modern scientists are still grappling with the vastness of our solar system and our universe. Creation is presented as an allegory. Entropy, the Big Bang, and evolution could have been written about. When these subjects are presented in a truthful way, they are beautiful, many books try to place a slant on each of the subjects. Sometimes, silence and voices of the past can bring us to an inner peace.
