Shortlisted for Best Young Adults' Title for Singapore Book Awards 2016 After a successful fundraising effort, I was off to Sarawak, Malaysia with my bros Alvin and Anthony for an exciting jungle trek! And, more importantly, I'd get to see my dear friend Jolin. (Mum calls her the "object of my infatuation".) Our guide, Jolin's weird "jungle man" Uncle Jufri, warned us to never let our guard down, for the rainforest is full of secrets and surprises. After getting drenched in a thunderstorm, and some icky encounters with mussels, toads, leeches and ants, we thought we'd seen and survived it all. But then there were those footprints, BIGGER THAN A HUMAN'S, that just couldn't be explained. This book explores the relationships between popular music, technology, and the changing media ecosystem. More precisely, it looks at infrastructures and practices of music making and consuming primarily in the post-Napster era of digitization – with some chapters looking back on the technological precursors to digital culture – marked by the emergence of digital tools and platforms such as YouTube or Spotify. The first section provides a critical overview of theories addressing popular music and digital technology, while the second section offers an analysis of the relationship between musical cultures, taste, constructions of authenticity, and technology. The third section offers case studies on the materialities of music consumption from outside the western core of popular music production. The final section reflects on music scenes and the uses and discourses of social media.

Set in London and Brighton, Thirty Days is a fabulously provocative romance series that gives you a very steamy love affair between a hot guy and an unsure heroine, baked goods and some rather unexpected twists and turns along the way. "I don't know how much more of this I can take, Taylor," I say, unconsciously rubbing my belly. "It feels like we are constantly under attack, that I am always watching my back because the bogeyman might just jump out me at any moment." Taylor lets out a sigh and begins to rub the bridge of his nose in agitation and I know that I need to address the elephant in the room. "I need you Taylor. Bean needs you too. You can't just keep shutting yourself away and burying your head in your work. I am almost at breaking point here and we are supposed to be a team..." I trail off wondering if maybe I have gone too far. With the court case looming, Abby and Taylor find themselves at the mercy of outside forces still beyond beyond their control. Will their new marriage survive the turbulence as the lies begin to unravel? The Thirty Days series totals four books and explores Abby and Taylor's relationship over the months of September, November, April & June as they work towards their own a 'happily ever after'.

This is a real-life story. You will read and get an in-depth look of my childhood, family, my teen years, the years I spent in the service, running a business and all the good and bad in my life, that I had, clear up till I had lost it, where I was put in the hospital and then diagnosed with bipolar affective disorder/schizo affective disorder. It all started forty days before Easter of 2006, having visions or insights into the Bible while making a new law for the people, also having vibes and connections with spirits that allowed me to believe that the end of the world was upon us. This true life story takes you on a journey, which is believed to have come from God. During the second part of the story, I fight against evil or Satan himself, which makes me believe that I may possibly be the Antichrist if I don't do the right thing in order to save the world. I would tell people that I'm the "Chosen One"—Jesus Christ, the Second Coming, the Messiah, the Son of God or even the Lamb of God.

Some of her examples are well-known (Shakespeare's Romeo & Juliet, Disney's The Lion King) while others little known outside their place of origin (such as the Hakka Theatre of Taiwan) -- all are approached by the author with enthusiasm.' —Susan Bennett, Professor of English, University of Calgary, Canada 'Tuan takes us through multiple examples of contemporary popular performance in theatre/film/TV ranging from "high" art sources (Shakespeare or Journey to the West in films, Hirata's robotic theatre experiments) to "low" (Taiwanese TV soap operas Hakka Theatre: Roseki and Story of Yangxi Palace, Korean film Along with the Gods: The Two Worlds). The reader moves at a speed-dating pace through contemporary culture production and interpretive theories, encountering significant works, controversies (i. e., yellow face), and conundrums selected from China, Korea, Japan and the U. S. and filtered through a Taiwanese female gaze.' —Kathy Foley, Professor of Theatre Arts, University of California Santa Cruz, USA
