CONTRACTCases & Materials?????

This is the third edition of the widely acclaimed and successful casebook on contract in the Ius Commune series, developed to be used throughout Europe and beyond by anyone who teaches, learns or practises law with a comparative or European perspective. The book contains leading cases, legislation and other materials from English, French and German law as the main representatives of the legal traditions within Europe, as well as EU legislation and case law and extracts from the Principles of European Contract Law. Comparisons are also made to other international restatements such as the Vienna Sales Convention, the UNIDROIT Principles of International Commercial Contracts, the Draft Common Frame of Reference and so on. Materials are chosen and ordered so as to foster comparative study, complemented with annotations and comparative overviews prepared by a multinational team. The third edition includes many new developments at the EU level (including the ill-fated proposal for a Common European Sales Law and further developments linked to the digital single market) and in national laws, in particular the major reform of the French Code civil in 2016 and 2018, the UK's Consumer Rights Act 2015 and new cases. The principal subjects covered in this book include: An overview of EU legislation and of soft law principles, and their interrelation with national law The distinctions between contract and property, tort and restitution Formation and pre-contractual liability Validity, including duties of disclosure Interpretation and contents; performance and non-performance Remedies Supervening events Third parties.

This classic casebook, now in its 9th Edition, offers first-year students a solid and inviting introduction to contract law, recognizing both the English and American common law traditions and bringing them into our age of statutes, most particularly the Uniform Commercial Code. Like earlier editions, the 9th Edition features carefully-selected cases, well-tailored notes and problems, and authoritative textual discussions of major developments in current contract law. These include the meaning of assent and agreement (with particular focus on the online environment and in the context of mandatory arbitration clauses); attention to comparative and international approaches; and accessible discussion of theoretical underpinnings of contract doctrine, the importance of which remain a mainstay of this new edition. The casebook is ecumenical in its outlook, presenting a well-balanced approach that is usable by professors with a wide-range of theoretical outlooks and pedagogical styles. Cases are situated within a variety of disciplines--history, economics, philosophy, and ethics--and present the law in a variety of typical settings--commercial, familial, employment, consumer, real estate and so on. The 9th Edition will feel familiar yet fresh to current users and both exciting and comfortable to newcomers.

This third edition of Employment Law addresses all major legal aspects of the employer-employee relationship. This latest edition encompasses all recent significant legislative changes, most notably: *The Employment Permits Acts 2003-2006, Protection of Employees (Part-Time Work) Act 2001, Protection of Employees (Fixed-Term Work) Act 2003, and the Carer's Leave Act 2001. *The Employment Equality Acts 1998-2008, Maternity Protection Acts 1994-2004, Adoptive Leave Act 2005, Redundancy Payments Acts 1967-2007, EC Transfer of Undertakings Regulations 2003, Civil Service

Regulation (Amendment) Act 2005, Pensions Acts 1990-2007, and the Taxes Consolidation Act. This book contains a very useful chapter on dispute resolution and includes substantial analysis of case law, not only in Ireland, but also significant decisions of the UK and the Canadian courts, the European Court of Justice and the European Court of Human Rights. It also cites all the relevant academic literature, which will serve as a handy tool for practitioners. About The Authors Michael Forde is a Senior Counsel and practises law principally in Ireland, appearing regularly before the High Court and Supreme Court, and at times before the European Court of Justice in Luxembourg and the European Court of Human Rights in Strasbourg. Anthony Paul Byrne is a practising barrister and practises mainly in civil law, appearing regularly before the Superior Courts. He is also the co-author with Michael Forde of Industrial Relations Law (2nd edn, Round Hall).

This casebook is designed to meet the challenges of providing students with the most current and comprehensive analysis of modern contract law within the time constraints of the modern law school curricula. While the Seventh Edition includes the most current judicial and statutory developments, the enhanced use of problems interacting with text material allows students to gain a clear and sophisticated understanding of some of the more complex concepts in fewer classroom hours. Today's student is asked to assimilate all of the basic concepts to which students in the past have been exposed as well as a host of new developments. To meet these challenges, this edition includes problems and questions surrounded by text referring to case law and other authorities in a fashion that allows the student to pursue preparation as well as the classroom experience in a highly productive fashion. Notwithstanding these innovations, the essential nature of the book has not changed. It is a casebook. New cases replacing cases in the prior edition demonstrate a high pedagogical value. The overriding purpose is to provide the student with the maximum opportunity to develop a comprehensive understanding of contract law in the 21st century that will be sufficient for long-term career success. Contract law will continue to evolve. It is important to provide the student with a vehicle promoting a sophisticated understanding of the subject in a fashion that will allow the student to assimilate future developments with justifiable confidence. This up-to-date collection of materials relating to the carriage of goods by sea will be of value to students of law, researchers and legal practitioners.

This book is designed for use in a single-semester, less than six-credit hours, contracts course. Drawing on the best features of the case method, it departs from the standard, reference-oriented texts, in order to provide concise, coherent, and teaching-oriented materials with a focus on principal cases, questions and notes. The goal of the book is to introduce the deep-seated topics of concern to the law of contracts with selective brevity, in choosing readings in classic and contemporary cases, and UCC and restatement sources, interesting hypotheticals and theoretical and practical reflections. This book also updates the conventional presentation of the subject by providing a more substantive treatment of the law of restitution and of relevant international and comparative materials.

This casebook provides detailed information on federal government contracts. It provides the student with an understanding of how contract principles intersect with administrative law and public policy. This edition guides the student through the labyrinth of statutes, regulations, and cases with copious citations to other texts, cases, and articles.

Contract: Cases and Materials, 14th Edition, continues to be the leading casebook for students of contract law in Australia.

This collection of materials is the companion volume to the corresponding LLB Learning Text. Used together, they provide a learning programme which enables students to learn the subject at their own pace and in their own time. More importantly, the cases and materials on their own are a portable library, allowing the student to concentrate his or her energies on researching and understanding difficult legal points.
