In this book, contributing scholars, practitioners, and researchers offer their practice experience and findings related to creating workplace wellness with emphases on the intellectual, vocational, physical, social, psychological, and spiritual needs of workers and the structures and policies within their workplaces. The first section of the book, "The Hazardous Workplace," addresses the stressful workplace, workplace violence, bullying, and counselling in an environment where stress is high and work entails more than the usual amount of risk. "Workplace Responses," the second section, examines the history of occupational assistance, several models of employee assistance practice, the workplace management of dis/abilities, complications around drug testing on the job, the relevance of spirituality to the workplace, an Aboriginal perspective on work, and an evaluative mechanism for occupational programming. Intake and assessment, crisis intervention, critical incident stress management, brief treatment, counselling employees suffering from depression or experiencing grief, and the role of mediation inside and outside of the workplace are explored in the third section, entitled "Practice to Create Well Workplace." And finally, four Case Studies comprise the final section, spanning the country while representing five very different work sites, including a child welfare organization in Ontario, the workforce of the University of Saskatchewan, a Canadian public sector employee assistance program, and a religious site where occupational assistance has been applied to a church community.

This book represents a single-stop-shopping equivalent to daycare operations. The reader, a student or a teacher, a parent or an educator, a coordinator or an aspiring owner, should be able to find answers to her needs in this single document. The Quebec Daycare System is the most advanced in the world. It is presented in this book in seven volumes, covering all aspects of daycare operations such as management, education program, personnel, communications, C.V. preparation, children's emotional relationships and health issues, their needs for a healthy development. Any daycare, private or public, will greatly benefit from the decades-long experience that helped to develop and produce this book. New or expecting parents will find clear and frank answers to their natural apprehensions, such as leaving a child under the charge of a stranger. This book recognizes the issues and deals with them in detail, giving advice and instructions to parents and daycare personnel alike. Developers, community leaders and entrepreneurs can find information about setting up, operating and running a daycare. All related issues are explained in details; personnel management policy, internal rules and the education program. The book is user friendly; its back index makes it easy to directly consult the issue(s) of interest and then the reader can move forward and backwards as per his or her needs.

The magazine that helps career moms balance their personal and professional lives. Practical guidance every early childhood administrator needs to successfully direct with a mission! “As a program director of an early childhood program, I find the sample lists and forms provided throughout the text to be very practical and helpful. They can easily be modified to meet the center's needs or copied as they are and utilized in one's program.” -Dr. Leighan Rinker, Executive Director Beginnings of Palm Beach County, Inc. “I would recommend this as a resource for child care center directors and assistant directors, especially for assistant directors who hope to move up the ladder eventually. This text would help administrators see the connection between mission and vision and everything else you do, as well as providing structures for developing and implementing sound business practices....I [also] believe this text would be very appropriate for students taking an administration course ...even if they were not currently directors.” -Jill M. Uhlenberg, University of Northern Iowa From Mailman Segal Institute, Dr. Hilde Reno invites future and current early childhood administrators and early education center directors to examine and assess the many duties and responsibilities inherent in successfully managing staff, budgets, and a quality program that conforms to all legal

The first phase involved a situation analysis in which extensive data was gathered from across the Nordic countries about practices to support wellbeing and identify early risk factors in prenatal care, infant and child healthcare and early childhood education and care. The results are presented in this report with detailed country profiles and a comparison across countries. Significant strengths and challenges are identified when it comes to supporting young children's wellbeing within the Nordic region
