The newly developed Montessori Baby Enlightenment Picture Book series uses black, white, and red graphics to stimulate babies' ability to recognize shapes and features. This unique set of children's enlightenment books combines the science of neonatal visual development and Montessori education theory.
According to the sensory characteristics of babies, before the age of one, the visual response of children for the first 12 months consists of three colors: black, white, and red. It is best to create a series of exquisite illustrations that cultivate image perception, define the
