

Gray Mountain

A man of a prestigious real estate firm is found dead, his grave an empty pool on one of his clients' properties. Richard, a friend and colleague, stumbled across the body in what seems a mere coincidence but leads to a trail of deceit and lies. Michael has worked hard to earn her way as a well-known therapist in the greater Seattle area until she suddenly becomes a target, tied to the killing of her best friend Richard's colleague. Giving the police a run for their money, she works to clear her name and unravel the truth of one man's senseless death, of love gone wrong in a murder mystery decades in the making, all while piecing together her own fractured love life.

Gray Mountain: A Novel by John Grisham | Conversation Starters Limited Time Offer: $3.99 ($4.99) John Grisham's 2014 legal thriller, Gray Mountain, focuses on the life of a pauper and society's view of injustice. The main character, Samantha, faces the ultimate challenge and disappointment when the high-power law firm she drudgingly serves gives her only one option—work for a non-profit firm of theirs and, possibly get your prestigious job back. The victim of a law firm that loses prosperity, Samantha is desperate to keep her place among the elite. She learns a quick lesson in the importance of serving humanity first through placement with the Mountain Aid Legal Clinic. Her life looks a bit "gray" on the mountain of suffering she discovers exists in the world, which changes her entire perspective on life, including a new chance at romance. Gray Mountain was touted to be an "angry but important" novel by the Washington Post due to its focus on the coal miners' life at Big Coal. Released in 2014, following another serious look at human suffering in Sycamore Row (2013), this novel took the number 3 slot on the New York Times bestseller list for 10 weeks. In the tradition of Oliver Twist and The Painted Bird, Espero follows the story of a small African boy sold into slavery in the port of Lisbon at the turn of the 16th century. After a privileged upbringing in the home of a prominent Spanish physician, Espero is abruptly thrown into the life of a fugitive among the underworld in Seville. With only his troubled destiny as his guide, Espero, working as servant to an unpredictable drunkard, is forced to accompany an expedition to the uncharted land of La Florida in the New World.

Losing her job at New York City's largest law firm in the weeks after the collapse of Lehman Brothers, Samantha becomes an unpaid intern in a small Appalachian community, where she stumbles upon dangerous secrets.

First published in 1999, Worlds Apart examined the nature of poverty through the stories of real people in three remote rural areas of the United States: New England, Appalachia, and the Mississippi Delta. In this new edition, Duncan returns to her original research, interviewing some of the same people as well as some new key informants. Duncan provides powerful new insights into the dynamics of poverty, politics, and community change. "Duncan, through in-depth investigation and interviews, concludes that only a strong civic culture, a sense among citizens of community and the need to serve that community, can truly address poverty. . . . Moving and troubling. Duncan has created a remarkable study of the persistent patterns of poverty and power."—Kirkus Reviews "The descriptions of rural poverty in Worlds Apart are interesting and read almost like a novel."—Choice

This handy 6 x 9 guidebook is a new, full color volume that navigates 1153 miles of backcountry trails in Northeast Utah, near the towns of Vernal, Logan, Salt Lake City, Price, Wendover, Beaver, and Milford. See ghost towns, old mines and mill workings, old railroads and stage lines along the 35 off-road trails. Directions include GPS coordinates and all trails are rated for difficulty, mileage, driving time, remoteness and more. Descriptions highlight places to camp, hike, mountain bike, fish, and sightsee. Histories recount the days of the Wild West. Books are leather-bound, signed and numbered, with printed endpapers, gold stamping, a slipcase, and a ribbon marker. The Great Recession of 2008 left many young professionals out of work. Promising careers were suddenly ended as banks, hedge funds, and law firms engaged in mass lay-offs and brutal belt tightening. Samantha Kofer was a third year associate at Scully & Pershing, New York City's largest law firm. Two weeks after Lehman Brothers collapsed, she lost her job, her security, and her future. A week later she was working as an unpaid intern in a legal aid clinic deep in small town Appalachia. There, for the first time in her career, she was confronted with real clients with real problems. She also stumbled across secrets that should have remained buried deep in the mountains forever.

Josh found himself accidentally in the land Walia. He at the first moment got his double, red dwarf called Jojo. Walians call little doubles mojtils. Mojtils help their doubles who came from other worlds. Josh's friends from the school also came to Walia, but his friend Voe was afraid and didn't wish to go to Walia. The Gray Mountain in Walia is the wisest and most intelligent being. The mountain helps animals and other beings when they are in danger. The Gray Mountain can make her gray stone into the grass, river, hospital and everything what somebody needs. She is good. But somebody put the spell on her. Nobody in Walia knows what's happening. The Gray Mountain thought that Josh is the person who bewitched her, and she attacked Josh while he was talking to flying deer. Deer thought that The Gray Mountain wants to talk to Josh. When realised that Josh isn't the person which is guilty for her spells asked Josh to help her to get rid of that person and to remove him from Walia. Josh and his friends Lucy and Wang also got their doubles in Walia, but they didn't know what to do. Josh spent some time in dusty lake to achieve his wishes come true. Being in Walia earthlings became smarter, and that also helped Josh to solve the puzzle. Nobody helped to Josh. How Josh would help to The Gray Mountain? Who bewitched The Gray Mountain?

Published in 2014, Gray Mountain is a legal thriller focusing on strip mining for coal. It is set in Appalachia, a town in eastern America. This story centers around a lawyer named Donovan Gray who is a big character in such a small town and certainly to Samantha Kofer. Samantha is new to the area from New York, and having previously worked in the capital's biggest law firm is feeling decidedly out of place. Set in the times after the Great Recession, we see third-year graduate Samantha learning on her feet in a small town that plays by its own rules. After the economy taking a nose dive, Samantha finds herself far from her former dreams of earning huge wages in New York. She is desperate to keep the benefits of her former role and has arrived at Appalachia on the promise of being taken back if the company finds itself in credit again. While working under Mattie Wyatt at the Mountain Legal Aid Clinic, she soon learns what a tough world she has entered where coal miners have little to no rights, even riddled with disease solely attributable to their working environment. This novel by John Grisham beautifully captures both the stunning scenery that the story is set in, but of the colliding worlds of fast paced New York and the slow but deadly Appalachia. Donovan Gray is the nephew of Mattie Wyatt and is on a mission to tackle the big bosses of the strip coal mining world. In doing so, John Grisham enlightens us to the dangers of this world and the damage it is doing to both the environment and the people working in it. Highlighting the extremity of the work, Donovan takes on a heartbreaking case where an upended boulder rolls down and flattens a worker's house, killing his two boys inside. The story then hones in on the proceeding court case and Donovan seeking justice asking for a settlement. Samantha meanwhile is involved in a love interest, and also abused by men in the town. * A highly researched book that was written with assistance from Mary Cromer, an attorney for Appalachian Citizen Law Center. *Written by the Mississippi born John Grisham who has seen many of his books become on-screen portrayals. *Worldwide best seller in the thriller field. *Takes an insightful look into the contrasts of city life, exploring the impact of the Great Recession and also the terrible working conditions of those working in coal mining. p.p1 {margin: 0.0px 0.0px 10.0px 0.0px; font: 15.0px Arial; color: #555555; -webkit-text-stroke: #555555} span.s1 {font-kerning: none; background-color: #ffffff} span.s2 {font-kerning: none} the recession of 2008. The book begins when associate lawyer, Samantha Kofer, is furloughed, or laid off, due to the recession, from a New York City law firm. Samantha is hired by Mattie Wyatt, a lawyer and the executive director of the Mountain Legal Aid Clinic in Brady, Virginia, as a volunteer at the clinic. Samantha meets Mattie's nephew, Donovan Gray, a trial lawyer in Brady. Donovan has built a reputation suing the local coal companies, something that has earned him a lot of enemies because of the power the coal companies wield in the area. However, the coal companies have created a dangerous environment in the area by using a process known as mountaintop removal, a type of strip mining that damages the environment and allows toxic slurry to spill into the ground water...

The follow-up to Color Mixing Recipes for Watercolor offers a robust index of landscape subjects that correspond to the featured color mixing swatches, discussing how color is influenced by the time of day, the angle of the sun and changing seasons.

"For several thousand years, all dyes were of animal, vegetable, or mineral origin, and many ancient civilizations possessed excellent dye technologies. The first synthetic dye was produced in 1856, and the use of traditional dyes declined rapidly thereafter. By 1915 few non-synthetics were used by industry or craftspeople. The craft revivals of the 1920s explored traditional methods of natural dyeing to some extent, particularly with wool, although the great eighteenth- and nineteenth-century dye manuals, which recorded the older processes, remained largely forgotten. In The Art and Craft of Natural Dyeing, J.N. Liles consolidates the lore of the older dyers with his own first-hand experience to produce both a history of natural dyes and a practical manual for using pre-synthetic era processes on all the natural fibers--cotton, linen, silk, and wool. A general section on dyeing and mordanting and a glossary introduce the beginner to dye technology. In subsequent chapters, Liles summarizes the traditional dye methods available for each major color group. Scores of recipes provide detailed instructions on how to collect ingredients--flowers, weeds, insects, wood, minerals--prepare the dyevat, troubleshoot, and achieve specific shades"--Publisher's description.

Monsters come in many forms. Some with sorrows, some with storms. After confirming her father - the king - is dead, Zera must assume the ever-increasing responsibilities of leadership. News of threats to the women of Trilittera - the same women who risked their lives to protect her - sends Zera on a mission to the Grey Mountain to help them escape persecution. Within the Trilittera stronghold, Wilhelmina makes preparations for her own flight. While exploring the honeycomb of natural passageways below the Gray Mountain, she is drawn to a well in the center of a vast cavern. Fear collides with attraction, forcing her to fight the pull of the well. Little does Wilhelmina realize, the opening is connected to her familiar - a rare and ancient creature who holds the key to the salvation of their kingdom.

A collection of 198 Literary Objects. Autobiography, fiction, literary experiments, spanning over twenty years of writing. The first three entries: One Saturday morning amidst cartoons and commercials I stuck my tongue out far as I could, closed my eyes, touched the tip to the screen scooted back licking everywhere inside my mouth. Then got on my knees shuffled up and pressed the top of my tongue flat on the screen for half-a-minute. That night I had nightmares:::the screen cracking and me dissolving. The next morning I named the flavor 'Silver.' In the evenings Mom would say 'Looks like you kids've been fingerpainting the tv again.' She'd go grab the Windex and the towel from the refrigerator handle. I smell glasses when I take them from the cupboard. They contain an odor of mustiness and usage:::such contradictions are always sweet. I rinse them under tap water I mistook a stain on my sheet for a potato chip.

It has been approximately nine years since Rob Nixon coined the term 'slow violence' to express the slow but deadly changes in the environment which cause the suffering of the poor. These environmental catastrophes take place so gradually and out of sight that they are often ignored. While Nixon dealt with the issues of slow violence in the Global South, this book argues that slow violence is not limited to this region, showing that poorer parts of America suffer from slow violence. Concentrating on Illinois and the Appalachian region, it reveals how slow violence occurs in these places and discusses the reflections of slow violence in various novels set in these locations.

Provides instruction on mixing color combinations for painting subjects ranging from apples and cabbage to skin tones and buffalo.
