Buying Calls IN The Money OUT the Money Buying and Selling Puts Risk and Options Parameter Please remember, you will not become a successful trader by just reading this book. You will have to practice the rope tricks this book shows you about day trading. When it comes to trading, our reaction to the market is more important than what happens in the markets. This is true for any venture, be it business or sports. The playing conditions are the same for everyone. Then how is it that one sportsperson achieves amazing success while many others fail to do so? It happens because of that sports person's response to playing conditions were more in sync than other sportspersons. Similarly, financial markets are the same for everyone, but only one Warren Buffett achieves tremendous success, where many others have lost their fortunes. This emphasizes that you can learn as much as you want. But ultimately, it will be your actions that determine the ratio of your success in day trading. If you are standing before a mirror, and you want the person in the mirror to raise its arms, what would you do? Would you force the person in the mirror to raise its arms? No. If you raise your arms, the person in the mirror will do the same! Your success in day trading will be a similar exercise, whether you are trading in forex, commodities, stocks, or options. Markets will open, trade, and close. But how you react to those market conditions, will define how successful you are in day trading. So, start reading, and start applying what you have learned now. When I first laid my eyes on a candlestick chart, it reminded me of my music sheets. I was intrigued by a simple pattern-like representation of the collective economic psyche. Intrigued and hooked. But I would soon discover that 'simple' should not be used in the same sentence as 'price action' and 'candlestick charts'. My story: I spent 25 years as a highly skilled session musician. But as the music industry became ravaged by internet piracy, gigs became tougher, fees became cheaper and more annoying as the years went by. I placed my first trade in 2007. I had no idea what I was doing. Although I initially made $4,000 I watched this bleed down to nothing over the very next week. I soon realised that the markets are nothing like 'point and click' like some brokers would lead you to believe. In fact, learning how to day trade consistently and profitably will be the most difficult high-income skill you will ever learn. Complexity-wise, it's right up there with performing brain surgery, becoming an Olympic-level athlete, a nuclear engineer, grand chess master or a highly skilled musician. Having said that, I enjoyed my journey to finding my alpha, finding my edge as a day trader immensely. I like puzzles. I enjoy intellectual stimulation. I thrive under high-pressure situations. If you are anything like me, then I invite you into my day trading method. It is primarily based on my own concept of systematic swing extremes. But it also incorporates heavy use of the market profile. Market profile is by far the most commonly used tool of professional prop traders. It has served me exquisitely well during my prop trading years when I traded crude oil futures and ES-mini (S&P500 futures). My approach isn't technical analysis. A more accurate term would be 'Market Mechanics' analysis. I look at statistical data, distribution curves and swing extremes to find high probability opportunities multiple times in one day. In this book, you won't find RSI, Moving Averages or MACD divergence. Instead, you will find some flow diagrams, statistical means, TPOs, and distribution curves - but without any complicated equations! It took me 6 long years of painstakingly backtesting and forward testing to develop a systematic trading method. My method is based on statistical probabilities, taking advantage of either norms OR abnormalities. This book isn't about $a+b = c$. Instead, think of it as learning the language of order flow. Recognising higher odds opportunities as they arise over a trading session. My skills eventually blossomed when I gained an apprenticeship in Chicago. I was trading next to some pretty legendary CME traders. My own career now spans 14 years across London and Chicago based companies. My true potential really came into focus when I paired up supply demand with the market profile strategies. To this day I am the only trader who managed to come up with a systematic way of marrying elite of the FOREX traders, no one gives their living away, unless you pay them a price worth their living. However I have decided to make this information for ridiculously low price, because I am fed up with the brokers and the big banks taking advantage of the regular retail trader. Let me ask you a question? When was the last time you make money with FOREX? Even further more how much money you are willing to lose, until you give up? How long you will continue to give your hard earned money to the broker? Just like you I started 5 years ago with high hopes of quitting my job and leaving the live I deserve with FOREX. My hopes and aspirations were quickly crashed and my dreams went to the dump. First I lost 1000, then 5000, 10k , how much longer I could continue like that, how much longer I could endure the ridicule the jokes of my family and the frown on the face of my wife. It was painful, sitting all day in front of the computer, until you can't see any longer and everything including the platform and your mind become blurry. I know the pain I have been there. This continued for year, until one morning I was ready to quit, I was going to give it a last try and throw that FOREX staff in the garbage, out the window. I stumbled on a rear tread, which since then has been banned, by the broker that was holding the forum. Luckily the tread continued under the broker's radar for while, and gathered a bunch of comments an support. Finally the tread from the trader X was discontinued. I was in dis pare, that was the only hope and light, I have seen for a long time. I was applying the advice from the trade and things were starting to work for me. Fortunately I was able to PM the trader and begged him to agree on a 20 min conversation on the phone. Trader X was not a guru, not your regular internet promoter mojo. He was quietly raking in thousands of dollars a month for years, he was not excited about the next trade, his heart beat was not raising before he pulled the trigger. See, he has been doing this trading stuff for so long it has become a boring procedure, rather a morning an afternoon chore, something like putting the garbage out on garbage day. He explained that he learned from the MASTER, I did not proceed to ask him who was the MASTER, since I mainly was concerned with him teaching him every little bit of what he knew about trading. He didn't not agree to spend time teaching me on our first conversation, regardless of how much I offered to pay him. See, for him money was not a issue. Finally on my third approach he agreed to show me what the MASTER had thought him many years ago. What is comprised in the pages of this book will be worth pure gold to you. This book is down to the ground no no sense, real trading knowledge. It gives step by step instructions with real trade examples. This book is not your regular hog wash advice that you will find from your broker and the other magic bullets and seven step series that you see on this site. This book teaches you how to trade like the pros. Shows you how the big banks and foreign nationals and institution trade. The book opens your eyes to how to piggy back on the big institutional traders and win. Ninety Five percent of the people that trade the Forex market lose money and give up. The market is continually replaced by fresh blood like yourself. Don't become part of the statistics, read this book and get a Day trading is a form of trading where trades are opened and closed on the same day, enabling the trader to capitalize on marginal gains earned through the day to day volatility of the market. When you are a day trader, your goal is to identify what stocks are likely to shift into favor that day so that you can conduct your trades accordingly. Generally, day traders will buy their stocks in the morning and hold onto those stocks until later in the day when the marginal gains have accumulated enough to earn a significant profit.
