But what is passive income? Passive income is highly sought after and often misunderstood. Passive income streams require an upfront investment and a lot of nurturing in the beginning. After some time and hard work these income streams start to build and are able to maintain themselves, bringing you consistent revenue without much effort on your part. Passive income is taking the modern financial industry like a storm. For a number of years now, entrepreneurs worldwide have been pushing passive income as the best way to unlock financial freedom and start earning big bucks for little long-term work. Passive income, essentially, is money that is earned without working. Don't get me wrong here - this isn't a get-rich-quick scheme. Building up streams of passive revenue doesn't come easy and will require a lot of time and determination to begin with, however in the long run sources of passive income will bring in money without you having to put in any more hours. And believe me, this is possible! I did myself, and if I did so can you. Active income x Passive income Many of us rely on active income to meet our expenses. Active income is money earned by putting in actual hours and being paid for each one. For example, a day job such as bank clerk requires workers to actually work daily to be paid. A bank clerk won't, of course, be paid their monthly salary if they don't attend work. Passive income, however, requires significant effort and super dedication to start but once established will generate money for years to come without you having to show up anywhere or clock-in to be paid by the hour. My first passive income was from an ugly not say disgusting property I bought in my late 20s. I renovated the place, and eventually rent it out. I was able to start with a small deposit (don't tell anyone or don't try this, but my small deposit came from a credit card! Really! I know it's crazy! Just to remind you, this was long time ago). Don't be so crazy as I did, learn how to earn your own passive income, nowadays there are many ways and in this book you will learn many ways. Keep reading....Generating passive income takes time, dedication, determination, hard work and passion to make money - but all these are important factors in achieving financial freedom.

specifically to help you decide, start creating and building streams of passive income by selling products. There is an initial assessment and brainstorming spread where you lay out your skills and strengths, to help you decide which streams of passive income are best for you to pursue. Some product and platform examples are provided just before the deciding spread, where you commit to one type of passive income stream you'd like to start with. There are spreads for five streams of passive income. For each stream, there are planning and assessment spreads. The role of these pages is to help you figure out whether your passive income stream is profitable and sustainable. Based on these results you can decide to continue with your passive income stream, or move onto another one. When starting out, it is important to achieve a balance between quantity and quality of products you create. Some streams of passive income, stock photography for example, require you to create a fairly large number of products before you will see any substantial income. However, to make any sales, you also have to create high quality products; in this example, high resolution, usable and in demand images. Therefore, when you commit to one stream of passive income, consistently work on it for at least one year before deciding if it is successful or not. As you are creating and listing more and more products for sale, you will have to keep track of them. Starting from page 51, there are product tracking spreads for you to record everything you are creating and selling. mNow what are you waiting for? Start creating passive income streams, and make money while you sleep!

Passive income is something many people dream of. We have all heard stories about how we can make a lot of money easily without having to make much effort. We're going to leap straight in to goods or services that people advertise online and hope that it's all going to turn out for the best. We will end up failing pretty quickly with this sort of mentality. It is not the fact that it is impossible to make passive income; it is more the fact that a higher percent of the people who are drawn to this concept are not prepared for the time, effort and commitment they need to put in. Money makes certain aspects of life simple. It helps us to do stuff we couldn't do without it. We could use more money than we all had. To several of us, putting in more hours at work than we already do may like the only way to do it. We're feeling constrained about what we can earn. Taking a second (or third) work is daunting to think about, yet in an effort to break out of debt and make a good income, many people do just that. The cost of living just keeps on growing year in year out. But let's face it, in the same proportion, our incomes are not inherently increasing. It's not the solution, to work longer hours, and take time away from people and things you enjoy. The right solution is to find secure and stable ways to make money, and that doesn't allow you to spend your life working so hard that you don't have the time to smell the roses. This guide is a wake-up call for people looking to earn through a passive income. It's not really meant to scare you away from trying to win one, but rather it's meant to tell you the truth and let you know what it takes to actually succeed. Is there any way to earn more money without working more hours each day? Sure, there is. It is known as passive income. Of course, this is not a kind of approach that is quit-your-job-and-get-rich-right-now, but a new path to slowly turn to, a path that can very well lead to prosperity too. Mere survival, at the risk of sounding too coarse, is no way to go through life, particularly now when there is a world of opportunity right before us. Passive income simply means you're making money or services work for you. Earning a passive income is a little bit of hard work, and it will require a lot of individual effort and time. For you to achieve success, you have to be ahead of the curve and be able to think outside the box to gain the great advantages that you expect. Although it may be a challenging task to make a breakthrough and create a profitable passive revenue company, it will certainly pay off later on. Liberty, independence, and a complete control of your own time are some of the benefits of this type of business venture. Admittedly, the first steps toward the passive income program will require work, sometimes even hard work, but the end goal is worth it all. One way to look at it would be this: Within a year, you may well be on your path to freedom and security with consistent effort. Needless to say, many people are working toward this goal for a whole lifetime, only to achieve it in old age. Technology is rapidly transforming the world that we find ourselves in today. Many voices warn about technology "taking our jobs over", belittling human effort and work, but they fail to see the big picture. What's more, who would want a back-breaking, exhausting task anyway, if your armchair's comfort could be an alternative to dragging the currency in? Through constant technological advances, whole new markets arrive, and therefore a full spectrum of sources of income, so easily accessible for millions, beyond your imagination.

If you want to discover how to set up passive income in your life, then keep reading... In today's world, anyone who desires to have any degree of financial freedom or security absolutely must learn how to master the art of passive income. These days, it's not just about how hard you can work but about how hard your money can work for you, and one of the best ways to really get it working for you is through passive income. The smarter you invest and spread your investments around, the higher your residual income will become and therefore the more money you will have to finance your life and the lives of the ones that you love most. In the past, passive income was reserved for wealthy individuals who had the means to pay enormous startup fees in order to get involved in things like real estate, franchising, and stock markets. Once you have a passive business model, you can literally continue to earn money while you're sleeping.
