The scenes which the author tries to depict for the reader show a multitude of figures and many phases of passion. A host of adventurers flocking from the centers of civilization on the shores of the Atlantic, half across the world, to a remote corner on the coast of what was then the semi-barbarous Pacific, coming to make a brief stay in the rude search for gold, brought a high culture with them, and suddenly lifted their new home to an equal place among the most enlightened communities. The early American settlers in California, instead of being, as many persons at a distance supposed they would be, the mere offscourings of a low rabble, were, in a large proportion, men of knowledge and capacity; and if generally inexperienced in high station and serious responsibility, yet not incompetent for them. This book gives an account of them and their efforts to make San Francisco the town it is today.

This aesthetic evolution has occurred in tandem with the artist's peripatetic movements around the globe in pursuit of the perfect wave. Over 300 colour images of works from the 1980s until today capture the acerbic wit and tremendous talent of the enigmatic artist. Textual contributions from Bickerton's family and friends, As well as scholarly essays by art historian Abigail Solomon-Godeau and MCA Chicago Curator Dominic Molon, are interspersed with the artist's commentary. An interview between the artist and Serpentine Gallery Co-Director Hans Ulrich Obrist is brought to vivid life by the renderings of Ignacio Noe.

Illustrateur de pin-up, quel beau métier ! Sauf que les femmes réelles ont un caractère plus ébouriffant qu'une image de calendrier... Une magnifique BD, venue d'Argentine, qui rend hommage aux maîtres de la pin-up, tels que Gil Elvgren. A few engineers, men and women, bored on a spaceship filled with sex offenders put to deep sleep. Until one devises a way of occasionally waking up good-looking pervs for a quickie then putting 'em back to beddie-by. Once the technique gets around, though, things get slightly out of hand!

The bestselling author of The Piano Tuner takes readers to an exhibition by the great pin-up artist, Gil Spam. He's now a very old man in a wheelchair who can't speak, taken care of by his lovely niece. Chapter by chapter, readers discover the real dirty story behind each wonderful piece being exhibited. How could such charmingly risqué paintings have been inspired by such utter lechery and sexual abandon? With Pin-Up Artist, Noe delivers another raunchy, funny and beautifully painted story.

"This alphabetically arranged dictionary of artists known to have produced works depicting sexual imagery profiles the artists from ancient times to the present. The Argentine scholar Noé Jitrik has long been one of the foremost literary critics in Latin America, noted not only for his groundbreaking scholarship but also for his wit. This volume is the first to make available in English a selection of his most influential writings. These sparkling translations of essays first published between 1969 and the late 1990s reveal the extraordinary scope of Jitrik's work, his sharp insights into the interrelations between history and literature, and his keen awareness of the specificities of Latin American literature and its relationship to European writing. Together they signal the variety of critical approaches and vocabularies Jitrik has embraced over the course of his long career, including French structuralist thought, psychoanalysis, semiotics, and Marxism. The Noé Jitrik Reader showcases Jitrik's reflections on marginality and the canon, exile and return, lack and excess, autobiography, Argentine nationalism, the state of literary criticism, the avant-garde, and the so-called Boom in Latin American literature. Among the writers whose work he analyzes in the essays collected here are Jorge Luis Borges, Esteban Echeverría, Domingo Faustino Sarmiento, José Martí, César Vallejo, José Bianco, Juan Carlos Onetti, José María Arguedas, Julio Cortázar, and Augusto Roa Bastos. The Noé Jitrik Reader offers English-language readers a unique opportunity to appreciate the rigor and thoughtfulness of one of Latin America's most informed and persuasive literary critics.

Incarnation se rêve top-modèle mais son physique ne correspond pas aux critères du mannequinat d'aujourd'hui. Trop charnue, lui reproche-t-on. Alors, face à tant de cruautés, la jeune Ibérique prend le taureau par les cornes et décide de maigrir coûte que coûte. Sa corrida commence par la prise de pilules coupe-faim qui provoquent moins la perte de poids qu'une libido démesurée... Avec La Diète, Ignacio Noé brocarde joyeusement une profession qui prône la malnutrition comme règle de vie et donne à adorer des totems sans reliefs. Cette satire est évidemment dominée par de longues scènes sexuées à travers lesquelles l'héroïne redécouvre les joies sublimes de l'orgasme : Raaaah Lovely !
