**Now a USA Today Bestseller** If your ex arrives in your hometown eighteen months after you walked out on him while you were eight months pregnant, follow this short list of rules before you give him a second chance.

Rule #1 – Don't stand in the way of your brothers who want to rough him up. Rule #2 – Don't meet him for coffee and agree to allow him to meet your daughter.

Rule #3 – Don't drool when your daughter falls asleep on his chest for the first time. It's just your ovaries talking. Rule #4 – Don't let him hold your hand. While we're at it, no hugs, no kisses on the cheek... just no physical contact in general. That only leads to remembering better times. The last one is the most important...

Rule #5 – When you find yourself needing someone's help and you're tired of always asking your family, don't let him be the one who's there for you.

Clothing may not be falling out of your closet doors but your closet is a mess. The tops, dresses and pants are mixed together. The bags are below the clothes. The jewelry is hidden amongst the creases of clothing. The shoes are scattered all over the house. There is no order. It may not be horrifyingly but it is definitely disorganized. Locating any piece of clothing or accessory takes hours instead of minutes. This makes the task of getting dresses difficult especially when you are in a hurry. Picture this, you slept through your alarm and you are late for work. You are not the type of person who lays out their clothes for the next day in the night, so you are rushing around trying to get ready. You have to hunt to match the right top with the right bottom. Then you need to locate the right shoes, matching jewelry and accessories. This kind of chaos is the reason that we end up putting on the most accessible pair of shoes or accessories in order to make it to our destination on time. It also leaves the look incomplete despite having the perfect shoes, jewelry or accessories in the closet. What every person needs is a smartly organized closet that makes life easy and efficient. Wouldn't it be nice to have a perfectly arranged closet instead of a disorganized closet? A closet that is not crammed with essentials and indulgences from everyday clothes to frilly fancy accessories. It is possible with a little effort and time. You also need to decide a organization method or pattern to arrange your closet.
