Jade's best friend Vicky has always been the bigger, brighter and bolder of the two, at fourteen just as she was at primary school. When Vicky is killed in a car crash, Jade can scarcely believe her vivacious friend is dead - especially when she appears hovering beside her, brighter than ever, translucent, invisible to others and able to fly... Our best-selling author has created a touching and warm-hearted story about the power of friendship and learning to cope with bereavement.

Jade and Vicky are inseparable until the tragic accident that takes Vicky away. But Vicky's not going to let being dead stop her from enjoying life to the full. Wherever Jade is, Vicky makes her presence felt. 'You look as if you've seen a ghost!' Jade is used to living in the shadow of her best friend, Vicky. Vicky's sparkly, hilarious and full of life. And, she's certainly not going to let a small thing like being dead stop her from living life to the full. But as Jade attempts to move on, Vicky is determined to make her presence felt. Vicky Angel is a heartwarming and hilarious read that explores grief, guilt and confidence. A moving story that young readers will adore. Readers will weep, identify and enjoy the book enormously - Sunday Times

Ten-year-old Mandy White must endure torment from three nasty bullies in school, but she finds solace in a new friendship with "bad girl" Tanya, a foster girl who has moved in across the street. Reprint. All human beings encounter loss and death, as well as the grief associated with these experiences. It is therefore important for children and adolescents to understand that such events are inevitable and to learn how to accept loss and cope with their emotions. In order to help children through their pain, parents and caregivers need access to the proper resources that will help them discuss these topics, and educational professionals need reliable resources for creating courses of study on these subjects. In Death, Loss, and Grief in Literature for Youth, Alice Crosetto and Rajinder Garcha identify hundreds of resources that will help educators, professionals, parents, siblings, guardians, and students learn about coping with the loss of a loved one and the grief process. These resources include books, Internet sites, and media titles aimed at students and those helping them through the grieving process. Chapters in this volume include fiction and non-fiction titles about the loss of a family member, a friend, and a pet, as well as general reference resources, curricular resources, and websites. Annotations provide complete bibliographical descriptions of the entries, and each entry is identified with the grade levels for which it is best suited. Reviews from recognized publications are also included wherever possible. Anyone interested in locating helpful resources regarding death and grieving will find much of value in this essential tool.

The lives of thousands of children are affected by bereavement every year. This guide examines the needs of bereaved children of different ages, their reactions to death, and the stages of their grief. It is useful for parents, teachers, clergy and those who are helping a child or teenager to come to terms with death.
