fantastical chronicle of the adventures of a young boy and his animal companions lost at sea. It has had a tumultuous journey since its arrival in print. The work features a discourse exploring survival, order, danger, chaos and captivity. Yann Martel was born to French-Canadian parents in Spain. Before Life of Pi, he wrote two novels that were not well-received. With the almost instantaneous popularity of Life of Pi, Martel became a lively and outspoken figure and went on to write two more novels of note. According to Martel's talk with the Big Think, "When you have faith in anything it's just a disposition to be open and to trust and to move forward that way. And I find a view of life that entertains a transcendental that engages with the transcendental makes things wealthy. It also it makes things wealthier in their significance and it also it's a way that makes suffering more bearable".

MEET THE AUTHOR Zak Ahmed Uddin is a London-based writer who has written about the arts and fashion for both web and print. The thesis focuses on Yann Martel's award winning novel Life of Pi and its feature film adaptation of the same title directed by Ang Lee. Through the analysis of selected sections, added and omitted scenes, music and special visual effects the thesis identifies the means and procedures used in the film's production process to translate the first person narration into a new medium. The first part of the thesis briefly presents the principles of the theory of adaptation, which are later used to identify the model of adaptation in Life of Pi. The theoretical part is followed by an analysis of the symbolic meaning of Pi's name, the tiger, the storm and the island in both the novel and the film, and by a comparison of selected novel and film sections. The last part of the paper is dedicated to the analysis of the film-making process and the integration of visuals and music into the story.

Soon the tiger has dispatched all but Pi, whose fear, knowledge, and cunning allow him to coexist with Richard Parker for 227 days while lost at sea. When they finally reach the coast of Mexico, Richard Parker flees to the jungle, never to be seen again. The Japanese authorities who interrogate Pi refuse to believe his story and press him to tell them "the truth." After hours of coercion, Pi tells a second story, a story much less fantastical, much more conventional--but is it more true?
