In this monograph, Carl Johan Berglund reassesses Origen's references to the second-century philologist Heracleon, without presuming that Heracleon's exegesis is determined by views described in heresiological sources or that every reference is equivalent to a verbatim quotation. The author uses variations in Origen's attribution formulas to categorize almost two hundred references as either verbatim quotations, summaries, explanatory paraphrases, or mere assertions. Heracleon's views are assessed by considering the over fifty quotations and seventy summaries so identified in a context of literature to which Heracleon refers - John, a gospel similar to Matthew's, a collection of Pauline epistles, and the Preaching of Peter. The author concludes that Origen is likely to have inferred views he knew from his exegetical opponents (the heterodox and "those who bring in the natures") that were never expressed by Heracleon.

The LSAT -- a nationally-given test for law school candidates -- is an admission requirement at most law schools. This manual offers six (?) full-length model LSATs, with answers, explanations, and analysis sheets to help students practice and analyze each of the test's three question types -- Reading Comprehension, Analytical Reasoning, and Logical Reasoning. The book also offers preparation for the LSAT's final part, the Writing Sample. An optional Windows "RM" software program can be purchased with the book. The software presents computer versions of the manual's tests, all of which can be taken in either the timed Simulated Test Mode or the untimed Practice Mode, which gives immediate access to correct answers. The software also offers an electronic note-taking pad, a cross-out feature that allows test-takers to analyze possible answers by process of elimination, and a highlight marking feature that lets students mark questions they may wish to return to.

This workshop provided an informal environment for the discussion of problems in audio and acoustics and the signal processing techniques applied to these problems. Topics addressed include: audio content analysis; sound editing, restoration and enhancement; and virtual acoustics.
