Caring for your skin takes more than just applying multiple layers of products. It's not "care" when you are putting harmful chemicals on your skin. Before we get ahead of ourselves, let's consider for a moment precisely what we mean by the term "organic skincare." By "organic," what we really mean is "without using artificial products." The term organic can be explained as "relating to or derived from living matter." That doesn't mean that the ingredients are necessarily alive but means that they must be natural and "related" to living things. The fewer steps the product had to go through before it was packaged, the more "organic" we consider it to be. How does this relate to skincare? Organic skincare means to let your skin heal and improve without resorting to the use of chemicals, compounds, and other unnatural substances. Why you ask? One of the biggest and best reasons to go organic, is that nonorganic products designed for health and beauty will very often include synthetic products that can actually be harmful. The golden rule to remember here is that anything that comes into contact with your skin, or anything that you inhale, will eventually enter your blood stream. If you wouldn't feel comfortable eating it, then don't rub it on your body or spread it around your house! Instead of burning away the top layer of oil for instance and potentially destroying your natural skin barrier, an organic product would use substances that help to health the hormone balance of the skin to naturally fix those oil levels. Which sounds like it would get better long-term results? Instead of ordering products that have been mass produced at a factory that billows smoke into the air, you'll be using products made from natural ingredients you can find around your home. Many of these you don't even need to buy - you can just make them yourself! If you are ready to take the path to becoming kinder to the environment, your wallet and most importantly, yourself, then click that button

Bring out the natural glow of your skin without the use of harmful and chemically-derived products with alluring recipes customized to create the best version of you. Why are homemade beauty care products important? There are two main reasons: lower costs and safer ingredients. Over the last decade, there have been many new beauty and skincare products on the market. But, as the market options for skincare increases, so does the cost of maintaining a viable skincare routine. What if there were other ways? Investing in smart skincare does not mean you have to break the bank. Many of the recipes in this book refute the idea that you must spend a fortune on beauty treatments with numerous ingredients acquired during a routine visit to your local supermarket and neighborhood pharmacy stores. In addition to being affordable, beauty products should also be safe. Did you know that most companies use banned products that can harm your skin? Toxic preservatives, petroleum byproducts, and other chemicals are found in many skincare products, and, on the contrary, cause aging instead of rejuvenation of the skin. What is the remedy? This book and the recipes therein. Included in this collection are some of the market's best-kept secrets right at your fingertips. Pamper your skin with energizing body scrubs, luxurious soaps and face masks, and rich body butters. What's more exciting is that the homemade body and beauty products are customizable according to individual preferences and are, therefore, more fun to use compared to store-bought products. As you customize, however, make sure that you know what oils suit your skin before changing the ingredients in the recipes mentioned in this book. The exciting focus of this book is that you do not need to sacrifice beauty for budget. You can have both. So, get ready to toss out the toxins and surround yourself with budget-friendly beauty tips. This book covers the following topics: Ingredients for making soap Understanding the homemade skin care Step-by-step instructions Why choose natural skin care recipes Properties and benefits of body scrubs Beyond the basics Recipes Home remedies for skin care Common skin care mistakes Baby wipes ...AND MORE!!!

Do you love skin care? Would you like to learn the advanced skills and techniques to easily produce All-natural, toxin-free beauty products at home? Today it's very easy to find face, body and hair care products on the market on the shelves of supermarkets, perfumeries, pharmacies, everywhere. But normally, these products are almost always very rich in silicone substances that limit the perspiration of the skin and dry it up. Unfortunately, with the passage of time the constant and prolonged use of products with silicones and petrolatum leads to results that are harmful for your skin because it will appear more suffering, dehydrated and with occluded pores. Better then to shift our attention to natural products for the body, preferably organic, rich in precious plant active ingredients. Natural beauty products are becoming increasingly popular, exactly because we begin to understand the importance of not allowing chemicals to absorb the skin. Before we get ahead of ourselves, let's consider for a moment precisely what we mean by the term "organic skincare." By "organic," what we really mean is "without using artificial products." The term organic can be explained as "relating to or derived from living matter." That doesn't mean that the ingredients are necessarily alive but means that they must be natural and "related" to living things. The fewer steps the product had to go through before it was packaged, the more "organic" we consider it to be. How does this relate to skincare? Organic skincare means to let your skin heal and improve without resorting to the use of chemicals, compounds, and other unnatural substances. Why you ask? One of the biggest and best reasons to go organic, is that nonorganic products designed for health and beauty will very often include synthetic products that can actually be harmful. The golden rule to remember here is that anything that comes into contact with your skin, or anything that you inhale, will eventually enter your blood stream. If you wouldn't feel comfortable eating it, then don't rub it on your body or spread it around your house! Instead of burning away the top layer of oil for instance and potentially destroying your natural skin barrier, an organic product would use substances that help to health the hormone balance of the skin to naturally fix those oil levels. Which sounds like it would get better long-term results? Instead of ordering products that have been mass produced at a factory that billows smoke into the air, you'll be using products made from natural ingredients you can find around your home. Many of these you don't even need to buy - you can just make them yourself!

2 Books in 1 Do you want a step-step guide for natural beauty at home.? If yes, this Bundle is for you! The body is made up of over 100 billion cells, each composed of fats and proteins. Carbohydrates give those cells energy. Such three elements are necessary to support the body's basic health. But, those nutrients alone don't make your skin and body safe. For optimal performance and a balanced appearance, the body also requires vitamins, minerals, and phytonutrients. These nutrients help restore skin damage, build structures to protect it, preserve moisture, and prevent disease. Of starters, collagen is the key structural component of the skin, and the body cannot do it without vitamin C. If you don't consume vitamin C-rich foods such as bananas, lemons, and strawberries, the skin can lose its hard strength and begin to relax, shrink and wrinkle. The use of detergents can favor the appearance of pathologies of different natures or worsen those that already exist. The most common are contact dermatitis and to follow allergic dermatitis. The former is caused by continuous contact with detergents. As a consequence of the irritating power that detergents exert, the latter may depend on some elements that make up the detergent itself. Furthermore, continuous contact with water and soap can macerate the skin and alter the skin surface, creating conditions favorable to the onset of bacterial and fungal infections. Contact and allergic dermatitis can occur even when wearing clean clothes. Also, if washed and rinsed well, chemical residues remain imprisoned between the fibers of the fabrics themselves. Itching and redness are indicative manifestations of the suffering of the skin towards the chemicals contained in the detergent In this book you will find: Homemade Soap Making Recipes: Soap making terminologies Methods of soap making Cold process recipes Hot process recipes Melt and pour recipes Liquid hand soap Essential equipment Oils you can use to make homemade soap Organic Skin Care: Skin care ingredients The benefit of homemade organic skin and body care Skincare products Facial skincare recipes Body scrub recipes Soothing moisturizer recipes Hair care recipes Recipes for body care Skin types and associated issues Home remedies for skin care When you choose organic skincare, you are choosing products whose ingredients work with the sophisticated natural systems of your skin. Given the right nutrients, our skin has the ability to care for and mend itself. Our bodies use nutrients absorbed not only through food, but also through the skin. It is medically understood that what goes on your skin absorbs into your bloodstream and is carried through your body. Why is it that we are far more scrutinizing about what we put in our body than what we put on it? You have probably thought about the benefits of eating a healthy diet. It makes you wonder about the effects of all the chemicals in the skin products that you are slathering on and rubbing in.
