An international team of researchers studied the following aspects of training in the United Kingdom's motor vehicle repair and sales sector: structure and characteristics; institutional and social context; relationship to the labor market; changing structural, economic, and organizational conditions; and training/recruitment and relationship to the British education system.

Government statistics were analyzed, and case studies were conducted of five very different companies, including a small franchise of a major auto maker, a large dealership/service center, a vehicle electrical system repairer that is 1 of 700 outlets, and a family business. Each case study included a profile of the company, its personnel management and vocational policies, and its provisions for continuing/ongoing training. The study concluded that the British automotive industry exemplified the demise of the country's vocational and education training system. Although the recent national system of vocational qualifications and other initiatives have promised to improve the level and consistency of training provision in the automotive industry, the main issue now facing individual dealerships remains that of finding the resources to invest in the level of training required to produce the skilled employees demanded by vehicle manufacturers, government standards, and market pressures. Après des études au Lycée Paul Ramier où il connut ses premières inimitiés avec des certains Pythagore, Pi et Archimède, Rémy Martin rejoignit grâce à l'appui de son oncle Jean qui sut reconnaître ses dispositions salvatrices, le glorieux corps des fonctionnaires territoriaux où il a travaillé avec sérieux et courage au service chargé des papiers. Après son veuvage et une vie sentimentale similaire à sa vie professionnelle, il décida par désappointement de finir sa carrière terrestre en institution de retraite. Après une période sans histoire, passée dans le cercle de l'attente du lendemain, il fit par bonheur, la connaissance de Lina une ancienne et honnête commerçante bretonne. Grâce au hasard de leur rencontre et d'une complicité sans faille, ils purent enfin combler leurs rêves de toute une vie, Lina de voir la montagne, Rémy de connaître enfin une véritable amitié féminine. Nos deux pensionnaires, qui disons-le tout net sont de petits coquins pleins de malice et d'humour, décidèrent sans rien demander à personne, de s'éclipser pour un voyage qui devait être sur le papier, sans histoire. Mais tout ne se passa pas tout à fait comme prévu. C'est l'histoire de cette réjouissante rencontre entre Lina et Rémy que je vais vous raconter. Naturellement, je ne vais pas vous dire le contraire, mais je vous conseille vivement de la lire. Théoriquement, vous ne devriez pas le regretter. Je dis théoriquement car personne n'a jamais fait l'unanimité, pas même les Dieux, c'est tout dire!
