India is one of the emerging markets that pose a unique set of challenges to marketers. The importance of the context and the usefulness of concepts in the Indian context is the core proposition of the book. The diversity of a mix of factors such as cultural aspects, lifestyles, demographics and unbranded offerings make consumer behaviour a fascinating study. This book focuses on the behavioural principles of marketing and its application to branding in the Indian context. *

Consumer behaviour concepts associated with branding * A combination of recent and traditional examples reflecting the application of behavioural concepts * Touch of reality boxes to indicate context-based examples * Caselets and cases drawn from real-life situations * Research findings associated with the Indian context * Topical issues in consumer behaviour like cultural aspects, digital marketing and experiential branding

This new European perspective on Schiffman and Kanuk's classic Consumer Behavior focuses not only on what consumers buy, but also why they buy, when they buy, where they buy, how they evaluate their purchase, and how they ultimately dispose of it. The text has been thoroughly adapted and revised to

The most important concern for marketers is to influence consumer behaviour in a desired manner. This book attempts to answer the big question, "Why do people behave the way they do as consumers of all sorts of goods and services?" This focus of this book is to acquaint management students with a managerial understanding and insight of our behaviour as consumers. Students, who aspire to become marketing managers, brand managers, sales managers, or want to take up a career in advertising etc., need to acquire the knowledge and skills which would be critically useful to them in these careers. The text is comprehensive with relatively recent research inputs from scholars describing various behavioural concepts and theories that are believed to be fundamentally useful for developing an understanding of consumer behaviour. Wherever possible, to clarify the concepts, it has been endeavoured to use Indian examples to make it more relevant to Indian conditions and easier for students to understand. In this new edition, all the topics have been revised, and some moderately updated, with more recent or relevant material on the subject to make the text richer and more useful. Overall, the book would be quite useful and will meet the requirements of students pursuing management studies and specializing in marketing. Essay from the year 2010 in the subject Economics - Micro-economics, , language: English, abstract: A company may think that if it can provide the perfect product to the customers, they will buy it. Many customers are brand loyalty therefore sometimes the good products cannot be competing with the good brand. However factors influencing consumer behaviour is not only the product itself but also advertising, which can be one of the most important factors affected purchasing decision. Typically every company realise an essential of advertising as it is shown in the profit and loss statement.

Moreover it is noticeable that budget for advertising always high. It is well-known fact that advertising plays an important role in people's daily lives. The advertising is available anywhere both inside and outside home. Recent research suggests that people spend two and a half hours on average watching television (Livingstone and Bovill, 1999 cited Dickinson, 2000). This essay critically analyses and evaluates the major factors that could affect consumer buying behaviour. Nevertheless, I would like to base my overall main points on advertising as the major factors which would makes it a lot easier and I could focus on this scenario and hopefully answer all my questions. Throughout this essay, the term of advertising covers all media for instance television, radio, newspaper, direct mail, yellow pages, magazine, billboards, leaflets and even on film (Perreault and McCarthy 1999, p.450). This essay is divided into three sections. Firstly it will look at what consumer behaviour is, I will analyse and evaluate the major factors. Secondly it will discuss the importance of the advertising, show my understanding and explain why it is important to successful marketing. I will, thirdly, analyse the consumers' attitude and advertising. Finally this review will mention about advertising influences consumers buying food. Also, identify and evaluate key differences between organisational and consumer purchasing and discuss their implications for marketers.
