The music of the night calls out to you... A sinister force threatens a teenage horror fan, and only a team of B movie monsters can come to his rescue. Fear stalks a group of punks when a scarecrow proves that birds aren't the only things it can terrorize. And all hell breaks loose when a man discovers that his next-door neighbor possesses the power to reanimate the dead... Celebrate the music of the night with Scare Street's latest collection of diabolical horror. Thirteen tales of paranormal horror haunt this new volume. More than enough to keep you reading long after the sun goes down. As you turn the page, the symphony begins... A wolf howls. The wind moans. Claws tap against your door. Powerless to resist, you open the door. The music calls... And you must follow its haunting melody. Where will it lead you? No one really knows, but one thing is certain—as you step into the mist and the world of the living fades away, one more song is about to join this medley of fear. Your own terrified scream... This volume

Trying to make sense of the horrors of World War II, Death relates the story of Liesel--a young German girl whose book-stealing and story-telling talents help sustain her family and the Jewish man they are hiding, as well as their neighbors.

Herein are 11 of the most popular children's stories taken from the world of Fairydom retold by master storyteller, Charles Perrault. The first nine are well known with the last two perhaps less well-known. The stories are further enhanced by the twelve woodcuts by Charles Robinson. These stories have purposely been put into a shortened form which gives younger children the opportunity to gain a full comprehension of the story before they fall asleep. In addition most stories have been suffixed by a moral set in verse. Herein are the stories of: The Sleeping Beauty In The Wood Little Red Riding-Hood Blue Beard Master Cat; Or, Puss In Boots The Fairies Cinderella; Or, The Little Glass Slipper Riquet With The Tuft Little Thumbling Beauty And The Beast The Benevolent
