

The Bus My Life In And Out Of A Helmet

A collection of extracts from 26 autobiographies by German-Jewish women on the Nazi period in Germany and the problems of emigration. The introduction (pp. 1-8) notes that Nazi brutality operated in a special way against Jewish married women, who "were singled out and targeted as mediators of Nazi policies"; for example, after "Kristallnacht" they were forced to secure emigration papers in order to obtain the release of their husbands from concentration camps. Mentions that in 1939 there remained in Germany 135 Jewish women for every 100 Jewish men, suggesting that more men fled abroad.

"This collection of Huth's ironic, incisive short stories centers around some very ordinary people and the extraordinary ways in which they come to terms with seduction, exploitation, and infidelity--their own and others." -- Amazon.com viewed March 8, 2021.

The daughter of poet Carl Sandburg recounts her childhood and life with her father, showing him to have been a brilliant, overbearing, playful, restless man who was at once a gentle soul and a genius

The text, signed by Dos Passos, was used as a typesetting draft and contains autograph revisions by both Dos Passos and the editor as well as instructions to the printer.

Presents the author's photographs and personal account of the Woodstock music festival in 1969, providing an in-depth look at the musicians who performed there.

Abraham Rowin who was born in 1839 in Angelina County, Texas. This is mainly the family of James Abraham Rowin and is biography more than genealogy.

A weekly review of politics, literature, theology, and art.

Reviews movies that are available on DVD or tape. Each entry includes title, alternate title, one-to-four-bone rating, year released, MPAA rating, brief review, length, format, country of origin, cast, technical personnel, awards and made-for-television/cable/video designations.

In this landmark autobiography by one of the very first women treated as a peer by the leaders of the Civil Rights movement, former Kentucky State Senator Georgia Davis breaks her long silence to reveal her fascinating life story, including the truth regarding her often hinted-about relationship with Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr.

Poverty is a social problem and finding solutions requires us to look closely at our social institutions. This book brings together the most recent quantitative and qualitative data to examine the many dimensions of this problem in the United States.--[book cover].

"The magazine for young adults" (varies).

The author asserts that his most comprehensive exposé of the global conspiracy ever written is all one needs to be truly free. Original.

The BusMy Life in and Out of a HelmetThree Rivers Press

Offers how-to guidance for those considering volunteer work and offers helpful advice on the volunteer experience

Chs. 1-10 (p. 7-111) relate the author's early childhood in Jasina, Czechoslovakia (which became part of Hungary in March 1939), her family's increasingly difficult situation after the Nazi occupation of Hungary in March 1944, and their subsequent deportation to Auschwitz. Describes the struggle for survival - along with her sister - in Auschwitz, their transfer as slave laborers to Nuremberg, and their liberation in May 1945. The rest of the author's family perished in the Holocaust.

An important work for helping young Indigenous African Descendants and the world at large with understanding the importance of knowing your history, taking pride in your personal worth and abilities, and persevering toward your desired aims in life, in spite of the obstacles.

Accompanied by "Florida highways official detour bulletin," Feb. 1942-
Sydney Schuster was an easy target growing up; the bullies beat him up every day. Now, he's a millionaire with bullies for sons. He was willing to accept that fate (albeit with bitterness), but an opportunity arises. Syd's former tormentor, now a priest, hits him up for the money to save his school. Sydney hits back with an offer the priest could not refuse. With Syd's financial backing, Father John will run a new boarding school for ten inner-city teenagers. The kids, however, aren't just there to study. They're the guinea pigs in a social experiment. Their mission: to break the bully/victim cycle, without breaking a few simple rules. If they succeed, they win five million dollars?half a million per student. But if even one rule is broken, no one gets a cent. By the end of the school year, few rules remain intact. The question is, how much will the judges find out? And how much will they tolerate?

Thomas Crowther was born in 1823 in Easthope, Shropshire, England and married widow Jane Jewkes. They immigrated to Utah in 1854, settled in Beaver, and later moved to Fountain Green. He died in 1898. Includes Anderson, Mortensen, and related families.

A revealing memoir by one of pro football's greatest stars chronicles Bettis's life--his youth in one of Detroit's roughest neighborhoods, the football talents that helped make him a high-school and Notre Dame sports hero and allowed him to escape his troubled upbringing, his ten-year career with the Pittsburgh Steelers, and his personal life as a husband, father, mentor, and friend. Reprint. 20,000 first printing.

Copyright: 0afd8739880623388a05ca08ea7896f0