This collection of scholarship on the world of the child offers an eclectic overview of several aspects of youth culture today. The first essay focuses on Donna Williams, Joanna Greenberg, Temple Grandin and other children whose unusual minds raise questions that take us deep into the mysteries of all of human existence. The second, "Colonel Mustard in the Library With The Sims: From Board Games to Video Games and Back," gives a historical context and theoretical frame for considering contemporary video and board games in our current age of television. The third, "Just a Fairy, His Wits, and Maybe a Touch of Magic; Magic, Technology, and Self-Reliance in Contemporary Fantasy Fiction," takes on the technological world of childhood, in this case considering how it is represented in three fantasy series, Harry Potter, Artemis Fowl and Faerie Wars. The fourth essay offers a detailed view of the history of children's literature in China, including discussions of the important philosophical views that controlled what got taught and how, detailed charts of significant historic dates, genres of children's literature, and award winning books of Chinese literature. The fifth considers contemporary Western world consumerism, in this case three popular book series, Clique, Gossip Girl, and The A-List, all published by Alloy for teenage girls. The sixth, "Surfing the Series: A Rhizomic Reading of Series Fiction," once again deals with series fiction. The seventh explores the recent "Monet Mania" that has sparked interest in the great Impressionist Claude Monet among adults and educators. The final essay, "Jean Craighead George's Alaskan Children's Books: Love and Survival," focuses on her book Julie of the Wolves and how it expresses aspects of Alaskan culture.

Grounded in theory and best-practices research, this practical text provides teachers with 40 strategies for using fiction and non-fiction trade books to teach in five key content areas: language arts and reading, social studies, mathematics, science, and the arts. Each strategy provides everything a teacher needs to get started: a classroom example that models the strategy, a research-based rationale, relevant content standards, suggested books, reader-response questions and prompts, assessment ideas, examples of how to adapt the strategy for different grade levels (K-2, 3-5, and 6-8), and ideas for differentiating instruction for English language learners and struggling students.

Throughout the book, student work samples and classroom vignettes bring the content to life.

Weiwei believes that she cannot draw, but her art teacher's encouragement leads her to change her mind.

Monet: The Magic Garden is a carefully selected collection of beautiful music by Debussy, Faure, Ravel and Saint-Saens that conjures up the verdant landscapes and idyllic scenes painted by French Impressionist artist Claude Monet (1840-1926). Monet's art is best enjoyed with a soundtrack of the music of his time and place, Paris at the turn of the twentieth century. Although Claude Debussy didn't like the association with the "Impressionist" painters, scholars argue that Debussy plays with sounds in music in the same way that Monet played with light on a canvas. This disc contains some of Debussy's most delicate and stunning music including Clair de lune (Moonlight) and Jardins sous la pluie (Gardens in the rain), both for solo piano, and the magical orchestral work Prelude a 'L'Apres-midi d'un faune. Other composers associated with Impressionist music featured on this disc include Maurice Ravel, Gabriel Faure, Camille Saint-

Literacy Assessment and Instructional Strategies by Kathy B. Grant, Sandra E. Golden, and Nance S. Wilson prepares literacy educators to conduct reading and writing assessments and develop appropriate corrective literacy strategies for use with their grade K–5 students. Connecting Common Core Literacy Learning Standards to effective strategies and creative activities, the book includes authentic literacy assessments and formal evaluations to support reading teaching in the elementary classroom. Initial chapters discuss literacy assessment and evaluation, data-driven instruction, high-stakes testing, and instructional shifts in teaching reading. Subsequent chapters focus on the latest instructional and assessment shifts, including pre-assessing literacy knowledge bases, using informational texts for vocabulary development, and close reading of text. Written by reading practitioners and researchers, this book is a must-have for novices as well as for veteran classroom teachers who want to stay on top of changing literacy trends.

The pioneer of impressionism, Claude Monet's unique world of light and shadow. Monet is a French painter and one of the most prestigious and beloved painters of all time.
