Learning how to protect your soul from the influence of the enemy in the spiritual warfare through the power of the full armor of God. This book is written specifically to show you how to protect the faculties that can give the enemy direct access into your soul, which are your thoughts, your emotions, and your will. The soul is the most important part of men; everything we are in this life revolves around the soul. That's why it's the number one target of the enemy. The enemy knows without the soul, we are dead, and when the soul is under his influence, we are sick mentally, emotionally, and physically. The soul is so important that Jesus says what can you give a man in exchange for his soul. And again, the soul is so important that the enemy is after it; it's so important that Jesus died to save and restore it. The purpose of the full armor of God is to protect the soul, and the way it protects the soul is by educating the soul strategically through the Word of God; that information becomes an armor that is formed around the soul. This book includes an additional weapon section and scriptures that will equip you to trample over the enemy in the spiritual warfare.

The male is in crisis. Traditional roles once gave men stability and continuity from generation to generation. Today, the world is sending out conflicting signals about what it means to be a man. Many men are questioning who they are and what roles they fulfill in life—as a male, a husband, and a father—leaving them frustrated and causing them to live far below their potential. Best-selling author Dr. Myles Munroe examines cultural attitudes toward men and addresses critical issues such as: How can men gain their footing in the ever-shifting environment of cultural expectations? What does it mean to be male? What definition of masculinity should men adopt? What roles should men fulfill-in the workplace and in the home? What do gender roles have to do with the male's purpose? What are the differences between males and females? How are men and women meant to relate to one another? How can a man build a better life for himself, his family, and the world? When men understand the purpose God has given them and the true design of their relationship with women, they will be free to fulfill their destiny and potential. How to Protect Your Leadership Influence and Power You've worked hard to achieve your dreams and goals. Many others have done the same—only to lose it all in the end. Every day, we read about successful people in various walks of life who have lost their power and influence. They've been fired, forced to resign, or shamed out of public life. They no longer have a market for their gifts, and they may even face criminal proceedings. These leaders have lost the trust of their companies, constituents, nations, followers, and families. Many were surprised to discover that their talents alone were not enough to prevent their downfall. Why did they fail in the end? Because they lacked the one quality that would have protected their leadership and given them enduring influence. Ironically, this quality is seldom taught to leaders today, either formally or informally. It is the quality of moral force, or character. Every human being is a leader over some domain as he or she exercises gifts and influence. That domain might be the halls of government, the boardroom, the classroom, the community, or the home. In The Power of Character in Leadership: How Values, Morals, Ethics, and Principles Affect Leaders, you will discover what character is, what it means to develop moral force, and how to preserve your leadership influence so that it is both effective and enduring. In Understanding the Purpose and Power of Authority, best-selling author Dr. Myles Munroe turns the widely accepted but counterfeit concept of authority upside down. Then, he reveals God's original intent, showing us how to live in the freedom of our own personal authority in God's great design and to respond positively to the inherent authority of others. Many people view authority as something oppressive, stifling, and even fearful. All of us hate to be controlled or manipulated. Our negative concepts and experiences of authority produce life-draining emotions—fear, distrust, suspicion, friction, defensiveness, antagonism, stress, worry, and dread. Others have a limited perspective of what authority means, believing that only people who reach a certain "level" in life can exercise it. They don't believe they could ever be called to a place of authority. The truth is, we were all created for authority, and we are all answerable to the authority of others. Authority is what we're authorized to do by our inherent purposes. You have a God-given calling to develop your own personal authority to carry out your unique purpose in life.

Everything around us is clear witness to the fact that there is a powerful God behind the entirety of creation. Our Father is not a weak, impotent, empty and powerless God. He is the source, centre and author of power (Ps. 62:11). If power belongs to God, then it is very absurd that His church is so feeble in our time. The church that started in power cannot survive without it. The power bankruptcy massively evident in the body of Christ today is not only retarding the advancement of our kingdom but making a mockery of the cross. A lot of the victims of hell are forced to look elsewhere for help since the accredited channels of hope are unable to deliver Calvary dividends to ailing humanity. If satanic counterfeits must not overshadow the original works of the Holy Ghost, bearers of genuine fire must arise now. God is willing and able to restore apostolic mantle back to the church, if men who angry at their emptiness will rise to pay the price for unction. Being angry at emptiness and hungry for fullness are the two catalysts of virtue release. God's servant James Ejeh is a man sold out to God and passionate about the restoration of the church to her position of purity, purpose and power. God has used him to meticulously and elaborately discuss this critical and timely matter, in this spirit motivated and monitored book. He did not write as one exempted from this dearth but in a graphic manner showed us how he personally travailed and of course still travails, to lay hold on the full grace of God. This is a book that if read well will surely keep you on your knees until you are engulfed in fire from above. It will help you to groan for grace. This is one book that will not show your need alone but dwelt greatly on what you can do to attain and retain the supernatural. I encourage all Christian leaders in particular and Christians in general to read this book. However, for maximum impact, it must be read prayerfully. Understanding the supernatural is a valuable resource material for churches, Bible Colleges and those committed to disciple making. It is our prayer that this book will make you restless until you are soaked in the spirit. May it positively adjust your speed in your pursuit of God. May it make you hate powerlessness to the point that you are ready to get the mantle at whatever cost. I wish you an unforgettable encounter with the spirit and the Word, as you read this book.
